

FALSE
NARRATIVE

Police officers helped escort the “QAnon shaman” Jacob Chansley during the Capitol riot

The False Narrative

Surveillance footage of Jacob Chansley, also known as the “QAnon shaman,” roaming the U.S. Capitol on Jan. 6, 2021, shows that police officers did not attempt to stop him and instead escorted Chansley throughout the building during that day’s riot.

The Facts

The claim that police officers did not attempt to stop Jan. 6 protester, former Navy veteran, and self-described QAnon adherent Jacob Chansley — and instead escorted him throughout the U.S. Capitol — is contradicted by court documents, statements from Capitol police officers and federal prosecutors, and additional video footage.

Chansley, who was photographed throughout the Capitol building on Jan. 6, 2021, including in the Senate chamber, pleaded guilty in September 2021 in U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia to one felony count of obstructing an official proceeding. He was sentenced to 41 months in prison, according to court documents.

Chansley's plea agreement, which he signed on Sept. 1, 2021, to affirm as "true and accurate," states that he and other rioters were repeatedly ordered by police officers to leave the Capitol, but "instead of obeying the instructions of the U.S. Capitol Police to leave the building, [Chansley] traversed another staircase to the third floor of the Senate side of the U.S. Capitol building." Chansley then entered the Senate floor and took pictures of himself in then Vice President Mike Pence's seat, according to the plea agreement. When asked by a lone officer to vacate the seat, Chansley responded "Mike Pence is a f***** traitor," the court filing said.

News websites advancing this false claim cited a March 6, 2023, segment of Fox News host Tucker Carlson's show, which aired exclusive footage of the Capitol attack provided by Republican House Speaker Kevin McCarthy. The "Tucker Carlson Tonight" episode featured a montage of short video clips showing police officers walking alongside Chansley inside the Capitol. "The tapes show that Capitol police never stopped Jacob Chansley," Carlson said on the show, stating that police officers "acted as his tour guides."

Dozens of social media users and sites with low NewsGuard ratings reported on Carlson's segment, claiming that the video of Chansley revealed that he was "escorted" around the Capitol by police officers. For example, conservative commentary site Becker News (rated 25/100 by NewsGuard) published an article in March 2023 titled "'Bombshell' Surveillance Video Shows QAnon Shaman Was Escorted Through Capitol Building by Police on Jan 6." Twitter CEO Elon Musk shared the video in a March 10, 2023, tweet, writing: "Chansley got 4 years in prison for a non-violent, police-escorted tour!?"

Officials refuted Carlson's characterization of the footage after the segment aired. In a March 7, 2023, internal memo, which was shared on Twitter by reporters and confirmed by The Associated Press, U.S. Capitol Police Chief Thomas Manger wrote that the allegation that police officers "helped the rioters and acted as 'tour guides'" is "outrageous and false." He added, "I don't have to remind you how outnumbered our officers were on January 6."

In a March 12, 2023, court filing related to the trial of other alleged Capitol rioters, federal prosecutors wrote, “The televised footage [from Carlson] shows Chansley’s movements only from approximately 2:56 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. Prior to that time, Chansley had, amongst other acts, breached a police line, ... faced off with members of the U.S. Capitol Police ... [and] entered the Senate Gallery, where he proceeded to scream obscenities.” Prosecutors added, “Chansley was not some passive, chaperoned observer of events for the roughly hour that he was unlawfully inside the Capitol.”

Although the clip of Chansley shows an officer with Chansley as he headed toward the Senate floor, prosecutors wrote in the filing that “the televised footage [aired by Carlson] fails to show that Chansley subsequently refused to be escorted out by this lone officer and instead left the Capitol only after additional officers arrived and forcibly escorted him out.”

Chansley was released early from federal prison on May 25, 2023, approximately 14 months ahead of his scheduled release, according to court documents. In an emailed statement to FactCheck.org, Chansley’s attorney, Albert Walktins, said his early release was unrelated to the Carlson segment. “The release of Mr. Chansley was solely a decision of the Bureau of Prisons and was based on the plea agreement, sentence, and the protocols of the Bureau of Prisons,” Watkins said, adding, “It was a decision which was part of an established protocol in place since well prior to the release of the videos.”

In July 2023, after being released from prison, Chansley filed a motion to have his guilty plea invalidated, citing the clips of Chansley aired by Carlson as evidence of his innocence, and accusing prosecutors of withholding the footage before entering his plea agreement. In a 35-page ruling, Judge Royce C. Lamberth rejected Chansley’s bid to reverse his guilty plea, writing, “These videos are decidedly not exculpatory, especially when viewed in context with the 'miles and miles and miles of footage' recorded of Mr. Chansley on January 6, 2021.”

Lamberth added, “Such footage, conveniently omitted by the [Carlson] program, shows nearly all of Mr. Chansley’s actions that day, including: carrying a six-foot-long pole armed with a spearhead, unlawfully entering the Capitol through a broken door, disobeying orders from law enforcement on more than a half-dozen occasions, screaming obscenities, entering the Senate chamber, climbing onto the Senate dais, sitting in the Vice President’s chair, and leaving a threatening message for the Vice President.”

Editor’s Note: This Misinformation Fingerprint was updated on July 24, 2023, to include information about Chansley’s plea agreement and prison sentence.
